

CAMPUS UPDATE

“Playtime’s over – it’s time to get serious!”
Luke C (graduate intern, class of 2021)

Since returning to school for the Spring Term, staff and pupils have got back into the swing of work and college life with an even tighter focus on their goals. Students have been busy revising and working on their functional skills in preparation for their mock exams, which will come to an end over the coming weeks.

Our interns have returned to their work placements and are concentrating on reaching their personal targets. We’ve been getting great feedback from employers with one saying their intern “is so independent I can leave them to do a job, come back to check and it is perfect.”

Another employer told us their intern “outperforms existing staff and is already a valued member of the team!” This feedback is so great to hear and we are confident that many interns are already on track to receive employment offers.

As always, with the support of our partners and the commitment of staff, pupils and parents we continue to strive towards our mission of breaking down barriers for children and young adults in Enfield with special educational needs.
